Wildlife and Leisure Park Untertauern

SUBHEADING

Watch animals, play and enjoy time outdoors together

SHORT TEXT

Spot deer, watch ponies, then head to the playground: the wildlife and leisure park in Untertauern combines animal encounters with activity and play. An easy choice for a summer day out together.

TEXT

Approximately 40 wild animals live in spacious enclosures across about eleven hectares. As you walk through the park, you can watch red deer, roe deer and mouflon, and take your time to make small discoveries along the way.

Right next door, the leisure park features a large playground, a Tarzan zip line, a toy excavator and a stilt house. Children can get closer to the animals at the petting zoo, while the Fürstenbrunn fishing pond offers an angling experience to your outing. The playground was renewed and expanded in 2026, offering even more opportunities for active play. Admission to the wildlife and leisure park is free in summer.
